Debden, Mr. F. C. Hardy and Misses Geri and Bertha Whittier, Edna Foy, Mabel and Bessie Mills, Anna McClellan, Lila Mueller, Illoree, Nancy, Lucy, Mrs. Miller and Jessie Steele and Gertrude Logan. Mrs. Mills received a number of hand and costly presents.

A Noted Bank Forger Caught. I probably one of the most extensive bank forgers in the country sailing under the name of Stine is now in jail at Louisville awaiting trial. He appeared in that city several weeks ago and inquired at the post office for some of the most responsible farmers of the county. Obtaining this information he reported to the banks and representing himself to be an agent of the Hartman & Co. Company in that if the farmer notes were good they could be discounted. The following day he reappeared with a note for $400 signed by John G. James, a wealthy farmer. Information of forgery at Paxton, this state, put the banks on their guard and the stranger who gave the name of Stine was soon arrested. He soon returned to his hideout but a short time to catch him the sheriff and his men and upon his return was promptly arrested. The note was forged, of course. From the county records Stine got the signature and forged it to the note. He at once tried to bribe Sheriff Overbeck by telling him he would give him $500 to release him. The money was handed over when Sheriff Overbeck could not find him in jail. It was soon discovered that he was the fellow who caught the Paxton and Hillsdale, Ill., banks only a few days before. They took no down identity of Stine and attached the $200 in the sheriff's hands. Stine with the hope of eluding detection directed the money to be paid over to him. He however was not released and is still in jail with a gloomy outlook before him. It turns out that he is a noted character in the forgery line. The strange features are that all of his victims are bankers who are prone to give the unscrupulous credit for the forgery. The lightning rod and clothes line Stark, many of whom are dead. The other day he was the subject of a court case and it was decided that he should be tried for the first time. It will be a pretty hot man when he gets through with him. He will be tried here next month. The rewards for him amount to about $1,000.

Williams' Australian Herb Pills

If you are yellowish complexioned with headache, bad breath, drowsy, no appetite look out your liver is out of order. One box of these pills will drive away the trouble and make a new being of you. Price 25 cents. John A. Swearingen agent.

One of the chief causes of the defeat of I. B. Bullard in Ohio last November was his letting in favor of the enforcement of the Sunday law. But now that the Democratics have the Legislature in that state they take mighty sharp repudiation of that notorious measure. They have introduced half a dozen measures of mild modification but none of them seems to at all repeat.

Ballard's Snow Liniment.

To Harry, the skilful surgeon of Atlanta, Georgia, for his skill in repairing my leg. He is a great surgeon in New York City. His skill in repairing my leg is unequalled. He is a great surgeon and he will be a great man when he gets through with him. He will be tried here next month. The rewards for him amount to about $1,000.

Poor Little Alphonse XIII.

I often say that poor people must be fonder of their children than the wealthy are of theirs. There is such a poignant interest in a child who will have to face a sea of trouble. Poor little Alphonse XIII must be interested in his mother's eyes with an interest of that kind being the posthumous name of a ruler of a bad constitution who having used up all the resources of a reign of a long life had to leave the world.

The court system was so bad that the doctors were afraid of having him live. In the sea. A shock of any kind might knock it to pieces. His mother comes from the most epileptic branch of imperial family of Austria.

A little Alphonse has said the doctors just as ill as his legs, with

He was caught by the Pinkerton detectives last week. Walton was a messenger in the employ of the Pacific Express Company. It decided to receive offers of land and money from cities desiring the location of the home. Bloomington, Rockford, LaSalle and other cities will make bids. The home will accommodate 200. ### A Growing Church.

Ten persons, all adults, were admitted to membership in the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, making thirty-six additions with the past five weeks. No special meetings have been held; no outside assistance called in; no attempt to get up a "boom." But the pastor and members of the church have been at work quietly and unostentatiously, and the result is as above-stated. This church is fully organized in all of its departments, and has all the societies necessary for doing special lines of work. The Y. P. S. C. E. is especially strong, having a membership of nearly one hundred, with well-attended and enthusiastic meetings. The finances are in a healthy condition, the members thoroughly united, and are manifesting a willingness to work. The friends of the church have reason to expect large growth and development in those things which make a church truly great.

The Park and Manager Ferguson

EBS. REPUBLICAN.—Various parties have asked my views on the proposed public park scheme, the purchase of the fair grounds, the embellishment of the same and its maintenance. As I understand it, the proposition is to have Decatur buy the fair grounds from the county for $10,000 if the grounds can be had for that sum; and then let the city issue bonds to the amount of $10,000 to fit up the grounds and keep them in good shape for ten years. It is further proposed that the two Decatur street car companies shall pay the interest on the $10,000 bonds, which will be about $300 each for every year. In reply to this proposition I will say that I heartily approve of the movement, and if the public park is a realization will cheerfully pay half of the interest on the bonds. The proposed park will be a big thing for both of the street car companies, which would in no sense be public benefactors in paying the interest on the bonds, as an attractive park, such as is suggested ought to be kept up at the expense of the tax-payers of the city, would indeed be a great resort, and would not fail to put big returns in the treasures of the electric railway companies. I have figured on the scheme and it has my hearty approval. The Citizens' company has had Oakland Park for five years, which has cost the company no more than $700 a year to operate. It would be a great saving to the Citizens' company to pay only $300 a year to get the city of Decatur to provide a larger park for the people, to say nothing of the larger financial returns to the company.

W. L. Ferguson,
Manager Citizens Electric Ry. Co.

Didn't Know Much.

Early this morning the Kankakee Republican reporter came across a stranger near the St. Nicholas Hotel whom he took to be Frank B. Rae, the inventor of the Rae electric motor that has been in use by the Decatur Electric street railway company, motors that are to be cast aside to give way to the Peckham 21-horse motor, two of which are now in Decatur to be put in use. The reporter had a very unusual conversation with Mr. Rae.

"When did you arrive, Mr. Rae?" asked the reporter.

Violets sell in New York and some other cities nowadays at $1.50 a bunch. There are about fifty violets in a bunch. Notwithstanding the price, there is a great demand for them and florists say there would still be considerable sales if they were $10 a bunch. In every florist's establishment there are men and girls employed whose chief work is to fasten artificial stems on flowers intended for large bouquets and floral pieces. Ordinary flowers do not require much handiwork, but, owing to its frail stem, every violet must have a support, even for a small bouquet. This is one reason why violets come so high. The end of a bit of fine florist's wire is inserted into the flower from below and twirled around the stem. It takes a good while to prepare a very small bunch for sale—New York Letter
